Presentation title: Enterprise-wide SharePoint Governance In Federal Government Agencies
For Track C (Control)

Description of presentation—

SharePoint is used across government agencies for many purposes and houses a range of electronic information. Management of this data is vital to protecting and interfacing with the American public. Effective management of data house in SharePoint, requires strong information governance.

The journey to develop information governance for SharePoint begins with an understanding of the software, its full range of capabilities and features, as well as the current enterprise environment. At the FBI, the governance plan also required differentiation between past and current versions of the software and understanding of different site types and uses. The formation of a governance team comprised of diverse stakeholders, including legal, IT, RIM, IT security, and e-Discovery professionals is an essential first step. The development of a governance plan and required documents, including the charter is critical. Additionally, implementing records and information management within the SharePoint environment requires integration of a vision across people, processes, technology, and policies of diverse stakeholders and for the final acceptance of end users. Collaboration with other agencies and coordination with stakeholders are integral components of the plan. Planning for an overall framework includes gap analysis, establishing rules, content types, security, and retention policies. Finally, governance must include a roll out plan to ensure that SharePoint governance is effectively applied across the organization.

Subject: writings for text book on school/campus violence.

To: [redacted]

Hi [redacted]

b6 -2

I am attaching a few pages of material that I have written to go into a text book on school and campus violence. The writer of the book has given a group of us 10 different vignettes of "made up" examples of threats on campus, and we each provide our opinion on how to handle it - or suggestions on how to handle it. I am only attaching the little bit I wrote on each of the 10 examples. As you will see they are very generic and again, not based on FBI cases. Please let me know if you have any questions. And, thank you again for your help.

Hope you are doing well. Mary Ellen
